Concerning the Printing Octopus.

The fact that there was only one Vermont bid to each division of work, it must be conceded, gives room for a suspicion that even metal type is liable to breed a hated octopus. The Burlington Free Press association and Montpelier Watchman company each secured a job, because their bid was less than the New York concern—Northfield News.

What has the contemporary to say of the "saving" that this country could make in buying steel and iron, tin plate, cloth and clothing produced by "the cheap pauper labor of Europe," rather than by the protected labor of American workmen? Protection is only good political theory, according to the revised view of this printing matter the News has been persuaded to take.

Respecting the "auspicious that even metal type is liable to breed a hated octopus?" What price does the News pay its compositors for full tabular composition? Of this kind are the larger jobs that went to Albany. The New York firm's bid for this work was 45 cents a thousand ems. That is precisely the price the WATCHMAN office has paid—and will pay—its compositors, in cold cash, for full tabular composition on State or any other contracts, and some of the bidding offices have paid more. Now what must the employing printer, in making up his price for this work, add to the sum of 45 cents a thousand to cover these items of cost: Proof reading, secondary corrections, making up, putting into chase, foreman's wages, rent, taxes, insurance, lights, fuel, interest, office expenses, wear and tear, not to mention repairs and minor items of the multitudinous expenses of maintaining a printing or any other plant, omitting entirely the matter of profit? The News can figure this up, and compare its conclusions with the price the WATCHMAN and the other printers made the State for tabular composition, and that price is only about two-thirds or three-fourths the charge of standard offices in New England or elsewhere.

The prices of the Albany firm have no place in straight or legitimate job printing. They are the prices of a guerrilla or bushwhacker, and the printing commissioners turned the printers of the State over to the tender mercies of this few concern. This is about the size of this particular "nated octopus."

As to License. Testimony Right to the Point.

Writes a former well known Vermonter, now a resident of a New York town, in a private letter to the JOURNAL:

I can not but feel today that I wish I was in Vermont, and was again a voter in my native State. I have been very much interested in reading my Vermont papers for the last three or four months. It seems to me that Dillingham comes the nearest to being the proper man for Senator. There is one thing I feel sure of. If some of the people who are now agitating high license with local option would come down here and spend a little while in New York, as I have been doing for the last three years, and have my experience with help, they would not care to have a saloon in almost every neighborhood, as there is in this section of New York.

If there was no Presidential campaign now we would probably see the same unification of views over the action of the President of the United States in upholding the honor of the American flag and the dignity of the American nation in China that was witnessed when we went to war with Spain two years ago. It is simply because one party desires to play politics that it derides the party in power for doing what every right-thinking man knows should have been done, and what only the most partisan persons dare to criticize. A pretty good plan to follow is: In foreign affairs there should be unity; partisanship should be left to domestic politics. The party that opposes any action taken by an administration to uphold the dignity of Americans abroad and to make the flag of the nation respected wherever it floats, will not be successful. The President's Chinese policy has been so far above reproach that any hint of criticism will be sure to disgust patriotic citizens of the United States.

Writing the Messenger in reply to a question as to his claims of support as the result of the recent election, Senator Ross says: "Some strange things this year. I am not doing them." Among the "strange things," the Messenger cites the defeat of Harry Blodgett, the Ross candidate for Representative from St. Johnsbury. This very likely was one of "the strange things" which the Senator was not doing. One of "the strange things" he was doing was to get sent to the press of the State a long article on imperialism, after the Republican case in Vermont had gone to the jury, for the weight and usefulness of the article in a campaign that had closed. That was a very strange thing, and it was stranger that the Senator did not make a single speech or utter a word in public in a canvass of so much importance.

Every man or being who mouths and prates about "government without the consent of the governed" should have a trust in his face the lurid record of political villainy in the South. Every hopelessly Democratic State is so by the brazen defiance of civil rights and the disfranchisement of hundreds of thousands of legal voters, through statutory subterfuge or open violence. Talk of the consent of the governed! The Democratic party, where it can work its undisputed will, is the living monument in all Christendom of the suppression of the rights of free men.

Our sympathy goes out in large quantities to the people and Legislature of New Hampshire, which is staggering under the load of six candidates for the office of United States Senator. This being an era of education, politically speaking, what doses of "sample copies" the people of the Granite State will be given, their neighbors on the west side of the Connecticut, who have just passed through the experience, may conjecture.

Senator Spooner of Wisconsin says that Bryan is very much weaker in the West and apparently stronger in the East than four years ago, but the Senator expressed that opinion before he heard from Vermont. The Green Mountain State has set the pace in the East, and the fate of Bryanism is unquestionably sealed from last Tuesday. It was morally certain before; now the verdict is rendered by Vermont from which the country will not appeal and which will not be overruled.

There are grave reasons for fearing that the jealousy among the powers in China will prevent such energetic concert of action as is immediately necessary to secure proper results. The temporizing of oriental diplomacy should not paralyze the forces of civilization, at least not before the status of the country is rightly settled and the yellow devils are inoculated with a decent respect for law and order. More prodding and less palaver.

Regardless of the flat of the notorious first district Republican convention quite a number of the conscientious Republican voters observed the letter and spirit of their freeman's oath and cast their ballots for Carroll S. Page for Representative in Congress. In Landgrove Gov. Page had twenty-one votes and several in each of numerous other towns, including Morrisville.

The head of the prohibition State ticket received 26 votes in Addison county, 1 in Caledonia, 55 in Chittenden, 2 in Grand Isle, 30 in Lamolille, 19 in Washington, 1 in Windham and 7 in Windsor. Returns are incomplete from the other six counties, but the total prohibition State vote to date is 141.

George Fred Williams telegraphs "Gov" Senter that the result of the Vermont election "means Bryan safely elected." Comment on such wretched nonsense is useless, and very likely Mr. Senter himself has an emphatic opinion of the political sagacity or leadership of a man capable of giving expression to such a sentiment.

Aguinaldo has issued a fresh proclamation to the natives, assuring them of the approaching defeat of McKinley and that the Bryan administration has promised to haul down the flag in the Philippines and evacuate the islands.

This is another case where forcible comment, though eminently proper, is entirely unnecessary.

The St. Johnsbury Republican steals the JOURNAL's recent article on Lake Morey, reproducing it without credit. Evil communications do, indeed, corrupt good manners. Will the contemporary confess its sin, no matter about any sackcloth and ashes? Some St. Johnsbury people are interested in Lake Morey and have cottages there.

Congressman Payne of New York is said to have wished for a small majority in Vermont "in order to awaken the apathetic Republicans of the East." Sorry to disappoint him, but hope the result will be equally satisfactory.

The west side election returns demonstrate conclusively that the Story morality trust is not an element nor even a fraction in Vermont politics. If it can be classified, it must be under the head of bacteria.

No Democratic votes for any candidates were cast in the towns of Standard and Landgrove and the towns of Somerset, Baltimore and Brownington each records one Democratic vote.

IN CHINA.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 6.—The report of the killing of several American women missionaries is confirmed. Their names are withheld and their death is too revolting to describe. Two other American women were coming to the coast with a party, which a number of Chinamen followed and stoned. The women felt exhausted and were taken by the Chinamen into the presence of the local officials. They were prostrated upon the execution block, and a feat was made of beheading them. One of them became hysterical and laughed, and thinking her insane, the Chinese escorted her to the coast because of their superstition regarding the insane.

The fourteen English missionaries, including six women and four children, who were murdered at Chu-Chau, in the Province of Che Chiang, according to the story of a Spanish priest who escaped, were killed with bayonets and ancient spears by the magistrates' bodyguard, and their naked bodies were hanged from trees.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The United States government received on Wednesday from its representatives at foreign capitals much material information in regard to the attitude of the powers on the Russian proposal to evacuate Peking. These give the general nature of the responses made by Russia to certain of the powers. It is stated authoritatively that if there was at any time a prospect of a serious international clash this has been very largely, if not entirely, removed by the harmonious character of the communications the several governments are making.

BARRELS OF SAMPLES.

More Than a Million Trial Bottles Sent Free by Mail.

By special arrangement with the manufacturers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the readers of this paper are enabled to obtain a trial bottle and pamphlet of valuable medical advice absolutely free, by simply sending their full name and address to the Dr. David Kennedy's Corporation, Rondout, N. Y., and mentioning this paper.

Of course this involves enormous expense to the manufacturers, but they have received so many grateful letters from those who have been benefited and cured of the various diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Chronic Constipation, and all weaknesses peculiar to women, that they willingly send trial bottles to all sufferers.

Try putting some of your urine in a glass tumbler, let it stand twenty-four hours. If there is a sediment, or cloudy, milky appearance, your Kidneys are sick. It matters not how sick you are or how many physicians have failed to help you, give this great medicine, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, a trial, and benefit and cure will most certainly result. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

The exact nature of the responses is not made public by the state department, for there are yet some replies to be transmitted, and until all of them are in, the negotiations are considered in such an incomplete form that they will not be made public. It is said, however, that the answers go much beyond the tentative character of those heretofore referred to and are of a conclusive nature, so far as showing the purposes of the governments, although they may not be regarded as conclusive in accepting or rejecting the particular proposition advanced by Russia. The Chinese government announces its willingness to appoint native peace commissioners.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Germany's polite refusal to withdraw from Peking is commented on here with keen satisfaction and the hope is expressed that Lord Salisbury will show similar firmness. The British reply has not yet been formulated. Lord Salisbury desires to consult with his colleagues and has notified the foreign office of his intention to return to London from the continent early next week.

There is little doubt, however, that Germany's reply is the outcome of the discussion carried on during the last few days between the European cabinets and that the compromise policy of maintaining the occupation of the capital but withdrawing the greater part of the troops to Tien-Tsin will be found to have met with general concurrence.

From Shanghai comes the report that Japan has notified the powers of her willingness to withdraw her troops provided an adequate guard is left for the legations and on condition that China formally requests evacuation and opens genuine negotiations for peace. Altogether, appearances are more hopeful and it is likely that when Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee arrives a fortnight hence at Taku, he will find the allies agreed upon some common policy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The receipt today of communications from Berlin and Paris brought about numerous conferences between the President, Secretary Root and Acting Secretary of State Hill, and also between Mr. Hill and Mr. Adee. It was gathered from these meetings that another note was being prepared by the United States but the authorities did not feel disposed to give any inkling as to its nature.

As to the purposes of Great Britain there is an absolute lack of official information, though little doubt is entertained that since Germany has taken the initiative, Great Britain will follow suit in favor of remaining at Peking. The position of Japan likewise is lacking in definiteness, although it is be-lived in the best posted quarters, that if other nations remain at Peking, Japan will deem it expedient to remain there also. It would seem from this that France is the only government to give concurrence to the United States although the Russian position has been expressed a purpose of following the Russian course unless the other powers brought about a modification of Russia's position.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 7.—The Kaiser in replying to an address of welcome today said "I am convinced success will attend the efforts now making to establish orderly conditions in the far east. I do not feel any anxiety and I am certain my plans will succeed."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—According to official information obtained by the State department this morning the attitude of the powers to Russia's proposal is uniformly harmonious. None desire their troops to permanently occupy Peking nor even prolong their stay indefinitely. France, however, is of the opinion that troops can be withdrawn in a comparatively short time. Germany believes the question of partition of China comes up Japan's course will be compelled to vary from this country's. Japan would declare as an unfriendly act any attempt of other powers to seize the province of Fokien or treaty port of Amoy. Fokien is separated from the island of Formosa, only by a narrow strip of water. Because of the proximity of Japan to China it will be necessary for the former to take part in the partition of the latter to safeguard her own interests.

GREAT AUDIENCES.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—The initial meeting of Governor Roosevelt's western tour, held in the big assembly room of the Detroit Light Guard armory Thursday night, was all that the governor's most ardent partisans could have desired in point of attendance and enthusiasm. The floor and galleries of the great hall were crowded. Many were on the outside unable to obtain seats or standing room within hearing distance. The vice-presidential candidate received a tremendously enthusiastic greeting, as he made his way up through one of the side aisles. A large proportion of the audience stood upon chairs and yelled frantically for "Teddy."

When the Governor rose to speak the great crowd arose almost on a wave and remained standing and shouting for some time. The governor's speech occupied about an hour in delivery and was listened to throughout with thoughtful attention and the telling, sarcastic and witty points were quickly caught and applauded. Governor Roosevelt gave the audience an object lesson when he asserted that our soldiers in the Philippines had less to fear from any body of armed bandits in that country than they had to fear from the principles of the Kansas City platform and the success of the Democratic ticket.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—MacArthur cables the following: "Details of the outbreak at Bohol develop the fact that Pedro Samson, commandant of the police, left Tagbilaran ostensibly to inspect the police of the various towns. This he did until he heard from Carmen where with his followers he was threatened with attack. Two detachments were ordered to the town, but the place was peaceful. No trace of insurrection. A detachment of 27 men under Lieutenant Leavack, August 31, was attacked near Carmen, by 120 Bolomen. The latter were nearly annihilated, over 100 being killed. Movement in the interior is now in progress."

WOMAN'S MODEL VILLAGE.

A Small Maryland Town Which Work of the Fair Sex Has Rendered Beautiful.

Camden, a village in Maryland, takes on pardonable pride in the activities of its women's organizations. The population is about 2,500. Public improvements, philanthropies of various kinds and patriotic movements have been carried on for a number of years, until today the village is a model in beauty public spirit and freedom from vexed questions, says an eastern exchange. The united organizations about three years ago undertook to improve Forest park, the wooded retreat to which all flock in the warm weather. A broad avenue was laid out and improved, running the entire length. A rustic pavilion, adapted admirably to its surroundings, was built and liberally equipped with benches and tables. Next an artistic band stand was built where now the village band may be seen and better heard than formerly. In 1890 a village library was organized by Mrs. W. J. Frisbie. Forty ladies pledged themselves to pay $1 a year as a membership fee, and the first year fees then subscribed started the movement. To-day there is a circulating library of over 2,100 volumes in the village, managed and maintained by the women, and the sum of $1,700 is in bank as a nucleus for a building fund. In addition to this the club women gave a further stimulus to the intellectual life of the village by providing each winter a course of lectures on topics of interest, delivered by well-known authorities.

ECONOMY WOULDN'T PAY.

Why Some Canned Goods of Commerce Are Shipped Crated and Others Are Boxed.

"Goods in large packages, like, for instance, tomatoes in gallon cans," said the canned goods man, according to the New York Sun, "are sometimes crated, this being done for the sake of economy, the crate costing less than a box. But canned goods in smaller packages, of which the number of cans put up is enormous, are commonly shipped in boxes. The reason for this is very simple.

"The big cans are likely to have only a strip or a band label, the rest of the broad expanse of tin being left uncovered. It isn't necessary to put this package up in fancy style, for it is not to be displayed anywhere. These goods are sold to hotels and restaurants and other large users. The steward or other purchaser knows the goods perfectly by the label, which is to him an unmistakable brand; he wouldn't care a bit if the label was scratched or marred, as it might be by coming in contact with something through the open space in the crate. What he wants is the goods.

"On the other hand the small cans are completely covered with a hand some label, which helps to make the goods salable. These cans are displayed on the shelves and on counters and it is important, of course, that these should be in perfect order as to the labels. The cans must not be dented in. One bad-looking can might mar a whole display, besides not selling so well itself. So the small cans are shipped in boxes for their protection which is of more importance with those goods than the saving that might be effected by crating them."

RIVAL TO VANDERBILT.

Automobilist Returns to United States with Machines with Which He Is Anxious to Race.

Among the first passengers to land from the White Star liner Teutonic, which reached its pier a few minutes after five o'clock in the afternoon, was Albert C. Bostwick, an automobilist, well known in New York and Paris. Mr. Bostwick was reported to have brought with him a machine with which he intended to challenge William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., the owner of the swiftest automobile in America.

Mr. Bostwick brought back with him no less than five autos. One of them is a Winton machine, which he recently took abroad with him to test against the best products of French designers. It fulfilled all his expectations. He also brought back three Voiturettes of different designs. The machine, however, with which he hopes to break all American records, is a racing wonder which he purchased from the Chevalier de Kuyff company for $12,000.

"It is not true," said Mr. Bostwick, "that I have sent a challenge to Mr. Vanderbilt or that I have determined to do so. I will say, however, that if Mr. Vanderbilt or any other amateur desires to try speed conclusions with me I shall be glad to accommodate him."

Relative Importance of Letters.

To those who have never considered the subject it might appear that each letter is of equal importance in the formation of words, but the relative proportions required in the English language are these: A, 55; b, 16; c, 30; d, 44; e, 120; f, 25; g, 17; h, 61; i, 89; j, 4; k, 8; l, 40; m, 30; n, 80; o, 80; p, 17; q, 5; r, 62; s, 80; t, 94; u, 34; v, 12; w, 20; x, 4; y, 20; z, 2. It is this knowledge of how frequently one letter is used compared with others that enables cryptogram readers to unravel so many mysteries.

MARSHMALLOWS IN BLOOM.

Their Delicate Color Relieves the Dark Green of New Jersey Swamps.

The Jersey meadows rarely come in for anything but abuse. Suburban travelers who are carried over that marshy stretch of land twice a day grow to look upon it as one of the hardships of their day's journey. At times they provoke condemnation no less pronounced than the kind usually directed toward Rutgers' Point. It was this same stretch of reeds and grass that gave rise to a conundrum that was very popular for awhile in front parlors along the line of a certain New Jersey railroad. The questioner used to ask why the president of the road was a generous man to his patrons. The answer used to be that he first gave every passenger a scent crossing the meadows and then passed all the oranges.

But there is something beyond the scent of the meadows to attract attention to them now, says a special to the Chicago Inter Ocean. They are abloom from one end to another with the marshmallow flower, and its dainty color adds an exquisite tone to the rank green that is usually the only color visible to the eye. Every August the flowers begin to bloom. This year their pink and white blossoms are scattered over the whole range of the meadows. Usually they last throughout the entire month.
